

Wainwright Business Section Razed By Fire Sunday Last

A blaze which started Sunday morning last in a rubbish heap at the rear of a shack, fanned by a 40-mile an hour wind, spread so rapidly through the business section of the town that only four premises stand today where once there was a thriving centre.

Some buildings, not in the path of the flames, and so still standing, include the telephone office, C.N.R. depot, new federal customs building, new Wainwright Star building, the school, several churches and the residential part of the town.

Occupants of the Wainwright and Park Hotels, which went up in an inferno of flames within 20 minutes of the outbreak, escaped with such clothes as they could throw about themselves.

The municipal skating rink, valued at $25,000 and considered one of the finest for a small town in Western Canada, was destroyed. Not a single life was lost and nobody seriously injured.

No accurate estimate of loss is yet possible, but Mayor Forster gives the round figure loss as $750,000.

Tennis Tournament Provisional Schedule

A local tournament has been arranged for all members and play will start today (Thursday).

It has been difficult to arrange the players as everybody may seem fit and due to the fact that the club has fewer lady members than men, some of the latter have not been drawn up in the mixed doubles. Such will find their turn in due course.

The ladies' singles which will be played off at the same time as near as possible as the men's singles, previous to the mixed doubles, should prove to be an interesting group of eliminations. Each player taking part in the tournament will be required to referee at least one game and report the results, etc., to the Secretary. Such co-operation is essential. The entire event will require considerable time to complete so competing players will complete their sets as soon as possible.

Those wishing to take part in the tournament and whose names do not appear in the list below please communicate with the Secretary.

Doesn't Miss Mother

850 This baby moose is a temporary tenant on McLeod Greenough's farm at Upper Newport, Hants County, Nova Scotia, on the Dominion Atlantic Railway and is taking his morning bracer from a bottle. Care and kindness won this little fellow, who in after years will be heard crashing through wood and underbrush at train speed. Just now, he is as playful as a kitten and apparently is not missing his mother. The cut was obtained through the courtesy of H. S. Anslow, editor of the Hants Journal.

A CAMPING VACATION

The school term ended, the roads in splendid condition, the car running with a contented purr, is a combination that just naturally leads the thoughts to a camping vacation.

The people of Alberta are so fortunate in having many natural beauty spots a short ride from the back door, that this form of holiday is becoming most popular every year. It is economical and it is healthy if certain precautions are taken.

Care should be taken to find out if all drinking water is pure. If this cannot be assured then the water should be boiled or chlorinated. The latter is a very simple proceeding; any druggist will supply the lime and give the few necessary instructions.

If there is a baby or a toddler in the party who must have milk, it is a wise proceeding to pasteurize it. No one can be sure if the milk bought has come from an infection-free animal.

Before driving into a likely looking hole for the morning splash be sure there are neither rocks nor roots. Do not bathe when very hot or immediately after a heavy meal. It would add to the safety of the party if at least one member could swim well. Carry simple First Aid Kit.

Literature on First Aid can be obtained free from the Canadian Red Cross Society, 407 Civic Block, Edmonton, Alta.

LOCAL & GENERAL

Mr. Bert Stitt of Chancellor was a visitor with J. A. McGhee and other friends in town last week.

Mr. Walter Durrer is attending a convention for undertakers in Edmonton this week.

Mrs. Beatrice Brooks of Moose Jaw is visiting with her sister Mrs. Ivan Weber.

Avail yourself of the opportunity of paying a visit to the Canadian Forestry Association Car at the C.P.R. depot today (July 25). The car will be open to the public during the day and a lecture on tree planting and moving pictures will be put on at 8 p.m. Bring your shelter belt and other tree problems to these government experts. The car is for your benefit and everything is gratis.

Congratulations are due Miss Myra G. Cyperry for her recent success in winning the French government bursary, which award was made by the French Consul-General for Canada, on the nomination of the president of the Alberta University, entitling her to a year's study in a French university, with free transportation. Miss Cyperry is now preparing to take advantage of this exceptional offer made possible by her linguistic ability, and expects to leave for la belle France the latter part of August. — Olds Gazette.

Hurricane And Dust Storm Saturday

Saturday last experienced a wind and dust storm, at times almost of hurricane proportions, lasting most of the day. The wind was general throughout a large part of the province and it is possible that in some instances damage resulted. Vines, fences and some trees in town were noted to have been blown down. It is possible that it was the same storm that reached Wainwright the following morning, rendering the efforts of the fire-fighters useless when most of the business section of that town was destroyed by fire.

$1 Pool Initial Payment

One dollar a bushel will be the interim payment on wheat for grain delivered to the 1929-30 crop, according to an announcement made Tuesday morning at the Alberta Pool Office.

Last fall when a bad slump in wheat prices occurred the initial payment was lowered from $1 to 85 cents, but the previous interim payment will be issued this fall.

Rumors of an interim payment to be issued soon has been circulated throughout the country, but the Wheat Pool officials would make no comment upon this rumor.

C.P.R. Crop Report Stresses Need Of Rains Throughout Prairies

Winnipeg, Man., July 22.—Extreme heat accompanied by hot drying winds in some districts intensify the need of rains on the prairies especially in Alberta. Scattered showers of heavy rain fell in some districts during last week, but the hot atmosphere and the absence of any general precipitation has rendered the crop condition less promising than last week. A large percentage of wheat is now in head and some of the earlier varieties in flower and milk stage on straw ranging from 14 to 20 inches with some shorter and some fields considerably higher, moisture, being of course, the factor of growth. Oats and barley are backward and generally on the short side, with some of the former and much of the latter in the head, but require much moisture to produce even a fair crop of feed in the drouth districts.

Taking the situation as a whole, it is difficult to definitely forecast the outcome of the present spotty condition of the crop as much depends on frequent receipt of rains to develop and fill the heads already short. Much of the summer-fallow grain is holding up well, but stubble, fall and spring plowed crops are almost a failure, and are being abandoned or used for pasture, this being particularly the case in northeastern and central Alberta, south central and south eastern Saskatchewan, and at scattered points in Manitoba. Hay and clover cutting is now under way at a number of points and cutting of rye commenced at Seven Persons (Taber sub-division) Friday last.

Conditions in the Didsbury district appear, for the most part, more promising than most sections of the province. Fair stands of grains are in evidence in some sections both east and west, while other parts the outcome will be away below normal but on the whole conditions are not as unsatisfactory as compared with other districts.

The One Hundred Percenter

Lady Astor, like Bernard Shaw, has the habit of saying startling things that make people think, says the Winnipeg Tribune. In the recent election campaign in Great Britain she struck a responsive chord in many minds when she said:

"It is the 100 per cent. American and the out-and-out Englishman I fear. I think 100 per cent. citizens ought to be locked up. They are a danger to the world."

Everybody knows what a 100 percenter, or an out-and-out, is. He is to be found in more or less substantial numbers in every country, although his favorite stamping ground is the North American continent. The 100 percenter may be distinguished by several well-known characteristics.

In the first place, he hails as a great moral principle the immoral doctrine embraced by the famous motto, "May my country be always right, but my country right or wrong." This naturally scales down into "my state (or province), my city, my party"—and, not infrequently, "myself." In essence it is placing a nation, or a locality, or a group of persons associated together for some common cause, above every ethical or moral judgment of mankind, above the sense of right or wrong.

Another sign of the 100 percenter is a steadfast belief that everything that is American, or Canadian, or English, or Italian, is right, because it is American, or Canadian, or English, or Italian. The logical consequences of such an obsession is that he cheapens his country's flag by dragging it in and flaunting it on every possible occasion.

The 100 percenter is not all bad, of course. He merely fails to see that patriotism is not the cause but the result of a sound and honorable national life. He is the victim of current standardization of thought which manifests itself in slogans and headlines. Not everyone would want to go as far as Lady Astor and have him locked up. Nevertheless he is a danger because his enthusiasm is rooted mainly in a mass of intolerances. And intolerance, as Lady Astor implied, is one great obstacle to civilized social progress.

And in civilized social progress lies the hope for the future peace of the world. If the American, the Canadian, the Englishman, the Italian insist upon the acceptance of their particular national views, and intolerantly refuse to see any good or virtue in the views of others, what hope can there be of the nations drawing closer together?

And if the 100 per cent. doctrine is sound and right, and the 100 percenter is to have his way, what hope is there for the future of many nations of today? Take Canada as an example. If the 100 per cent. Easterner adheres rigidly to his views, declares he alone is right, but whether right or wrong, he will not budge from any position he has taken on fiscal or other questions, and the 100 per cent. Westerner adopts the same attitude, what will be the outcome of the Canadian Confederation?

Apply the same attitude of mind in matters of race, language, religion, and government in Canada, and in each of the provinces of Canada, becomes an impossibility. The 100 percenter would wreck everything if he does not have his own way.

All history proves that intolerance has been the cause of the world's greatest sorrows, the underlying cause of its bloodiest wars. Intolerance of race, intolerance of national customs, intolerance of religion, intolerance of social conditions, the 100 percenter in the ranks of employers and in trade unions, these are the real dangers in the world today as they were in the years that are past.

The 100 per cent. demagogue with a glib tongue and a reckless disregard for truth and fact by attracting the attention, playing upon the passions, prejudices and sentiment of those who are so swayed rather than guided by their intelligence, can undo the work of generations of statesmen, and render difficult and oftentimes impossible the work of the true reformer.

The man who boasts he is 100 per cent. this or 100 per cent. that is merely advertising the fact that he is intolerant in his views and narrow in his vision and conception of life. He may be sincere, but his sincerity is the outcome of his intolerance, and his intolerance has its foundation in ignorance and a prejudiced mind. As such he is a national danger.

Can Measure Laughter

Machine Determines Whether Comedy Piece Is Success Or Failure

"John James, comedian, Lafograph 89," may be the form of card used by entertainers in the future, for a new apparatus has been invented to register the exact "strength" of the laughter aroused by a comic piece in a theatre or concert hall. It registers the truth and nothing but the truth. The machine will presumably have a figure to denote absolute efficiency, and should a musical comedy fail to come up to scratch it will not longer be possible to suspect that the failure was due to the critics. Also the critic's work will be made easier. Instead of praising an author's wit, or discussing a comedian's qualities, it will be necessary only to say at the end: "Lafograph 100, or 50, or 0," as the case may be. After a first night the public will be able to see the registered rise and fall of the needle—how it began at "titter," rose to the middle spheres of "chuckle" and "laugh," leapt to the higher "outburst" or "scream," or reached the supreme heights of "screch."

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To a Weakened Condition Of The Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day. They are therefore in need of all the nourishment and strength that plenty of pure red blood can give them. Unless they have this help, you will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, worn-out muscles of the back showing their exhaustion because of the lack of good, pure blood. The one generally recognized efficient blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the blood has been improved through the use of this medicine backache disappears. Mrs. F. Fairbairn, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her in a case of this kind. She says:—"I suffered for nearly three years with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk half doubled over. I had tried several doctors with very little benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and oh, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight without suffering intense pain. After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of the trouble. I can do all my housework and not feel tired and worn-out as formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Search For Oil In Manitoba

Western Oil Fields Are Gradually Extending Eastward

The search for oil in the western provinces is gradually extending into Manitoba, and announcement is made of the formation of a syndicate of eastern capitalists to drill in the Ochre River field. The new organization, which is called the Carter Oil Syndicate, has taken over the holdings of 1,300 acres south of Ochre River.

Reduce the Acid

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Important Move Made By Labor Government

Would Have Dominions Agree On Signing Of Optional Clause Of World Court Statutes

Important negotiations affecting Empire affairs, are reported to have been initiated by the new Labor Government of Great Britain. It has communicated with all the Dominions in an effort to gain agreement on the signing of the optional clause of the word court statutes, under which questions of international law would be submitted to the permanent court of international justice, at the Hague.

The Labor newspaper, the Daily Herald, said also that the Labor Government has informed the Dominion governments that it proposes to resume diplomatic relations with Russia.

The world court matter requires agreement of all the Dominions, and it is expected this can be secured without much trouble. Australia, hitherto, was probably the only Dominion reluctant to sign the optional clause, and it is understood this reluctance has now been removed to a great extent. In any event, Premier Ramsay MacDonald is hopeful of being able to show complete Empire agreement on joining the world court when he visits the League Assembly, at Geneva, in September.

So far as Russia is concerned, the Labor Government, is already pledged to renewal of diplomatic negotiations, this being a necessary and important step towards the desired increase in British trade with the Soviet Union.

The moisture evaporated from a single white oak in a day has been estimated to be 150 gallons of water.

Will Increase Empire's Trade

U.S. Tariff Likely To Divert Trade To British Dominions

Increased United States tariff against Canadian products will divert Canada's trade more and more to the other Dominions of the British Empire, believes Norton Francis, president of the Canterbury, New Zealand, chamber of commerce, and prominent business man, who is visiting Canada and the United States for the purpose of studying relations between the farmer and city industry on this continent.

In an interview at Winnipeg, Mr. Francis said he does not think Canada can meet the tariff situation by further raising her own tariff scale, but should concentrate on increasing her manufacturing and inter-empire trade.

Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil is regarded by many thousands as an indispensable of the family medicine chest.

Importance Of Tourist Trade As an Economic Factor In Canada Continues To Increase

The importance of the tourist trade as an economic factor in Canada continues to increase and is being recognized to a greater extent than ever by all classes of the community. Fresh interest has been stimulated in the subject by the recent publication of estimates by the Dominion Government placing the expenditures of tourists from other countries in this Dominion at $250,501,000. It is predicted freely that when the totals for 1929 come to be written up they will be well in excess of the $300,000,000 mark. The fact, moreover, that the expenditures of tourists from other countries in Canada amounted to $250,501,000 in 1928, while those of Canadian tourists abroad amounted to $103,215,000, thereby leaving a substantial credit balance of trade, is satisfactory, but when this worked down to a per capita basis it will be seen that Canadians spend far more in proportion abroad than do foreigners here.

For instance, the figures for the United States alone. These show that while American tourists spend some $240,000,000, or about $2.40 per capita here, Canadians spend $75,000,000, or $7.50 per capita, across the line. It is evident, therefore, that on a per capita basis we are not getting as large a share of the American tourist trade as we should. This will probably be corrected as the attractions of Canada become better known.

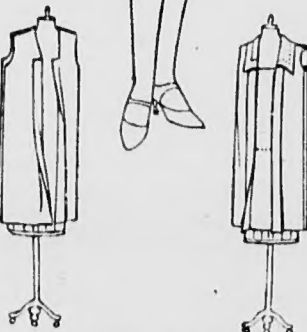

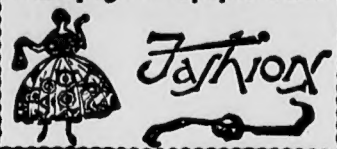

Commenting on the situation, the government statistician says that Canada's great natural assets—her picturesque scenery, the diversity of lake, forest, and river, the many large districts still remaining in their natural state, the healthful and invigorating climate, the charm of the Canadian winter and its distinctive sports, the old world lure of French Canada, attract tourists in ver-increasing numbers. The presence on our southern border of the United States, with its dense population possessing in a high degree the leisure and means to travel, the ease of communication between the two countries, the large automobile population, the relative cheapness of an automobile holiday in Canada for the average American family, and the close interlocking of business interests between the two countries result in a very large travel over the border. Canadians, too, are attracted by the larger United States cities with their theatres, museums, etc., and the more "settled" scenery, while large numbers of well-to-do Canadians visit United States winter playgrounds in the south.

That Canadians realize the economic importance of this traffic is evidenced by the large sums spent on highway construction and advertising, and by the good accommodation provided by hotels, tourist homes and camps. In addition to the direct value of the expenditure of tourists, there follows the wider diffusion of knowledge of Canada's resources and increasing investment in them.

At the same time it is evident that many Canadians do not realize the beauties of their own country. How many people in Ontario, for instance, realize the beauties of the Lower St. Lawrence and the Maritime Provinces, where they can enjoy not only entrancing natural scenery but also the salt sea breezes from the Gulf of St. Lawrence or the Atlantic. At the same time the people who live in those regions know little or nothing of the delights of Muskoka or Timagami, or the Georgian Bay, while both are largely ignorant of the pleasures which may be had in the Rockies or at the Pacific coast, or at the pretty resorts in the Prairie Provinces. A greater realization of the pleasures that are to be had at home will not only help to keep Canadian money here but enable Canadians to place before citizens of other lands the joys of a stay of shorter or greater length in the pleasure grounds of the great Dominion. In other words, many Canadians do not know their own country well enough.—Monetary Times.

Grades For Strawberries

Fruit Commissioner Has Worked Out Recommended Grades For Berries

The marketing of all kinds of produce is materially helped when properly graded. The fruit commissioner of the Department of Agriculture, at Ottawa, has offered recommended grades for strawberries. First of all, it is recommended that the fruit be divided into No. 1, No. 1 canning, and No. 1 for jam. The specifications for No. 1 strawberries calls for fruit with the calyx and a short stem, attached, which are well formed, of good colour, firm, but not over-ripe, free from surface moisture, bruises, bird pecks, mould, and from damage caused by sand, diseases or other means. The minimum diameter for this grade is three-quarters of an inch, measured from side to side.

No. 1 canning strawberries are recommended to consist of field run fruit, clean, sound, ripe, firm, and of uniform size, of good colour and free from malformed or monkey-faced berries.

The specifications for No. 1 jam strawberries call for field run fruit, clean, ripe, and of good colour, free from malformed or monkey-faced.

In order to allow for variations incident to careful commercial grading and handling, an allowance of five per cent under the prescribed size and five per cent, by volume may fall below the remaining requirements of the grade.

LOTS OF TROUBLE

No. 10, The Maze—485 yards, Par 5.

They've got to be straight to negotiate the tenth hole of the Jasper Park Lodge Golf Course, Jasper National Park, Alberta, over which the Canadian and Western Canada Amateur Championships will be played Aug. 19-24, this summer. Immediately in front of the tee is a water-hole and then it's a case of from bunker to bunker.

The hole from No. 1 (championship) tee is seen at the top and below is the hole in detail with yardages to scale underneath the panel.

The proposals of James A. Robb, Canadian Finance Minister, in connection with inter-Imperial trade and the suggestion of an Imperial conference on Empire trade and tariffs continue to be discussed with the liveliest interest throughout the British Empire.

British newspapers are appealing to the government to respond heartily to the Canadian suggestions, but there has been no move yet.

The Financial Times, in a long editorial, enthusiastically supports Mr. Robb's ideas.

"Meanwhile," continues the Times, "the present provides an excellent opportunity for co-operation in industrial development among the dominions themselves. With her magnificent and seemingly boundless resources and unrivalled facilities for the generation of cheap electric power, Canada offers probably the most attractive field in the world today, for British capital and enterprise."

The Times calls attention to Canada's development as a manufacturing country and appeals for the co-operation of British labor and capital to assist in this development.

Mr. Robb's proposals have called attention publicly to Canada's important part in the trade of the empire. In this connection many Canadians now in London are deploring the lack of publicity which Canada receives. It is admitted that the leading railroads extensively advertise the benefits of travel in Canada and settlement there, but these visiting Canadian would like to see Canadian products advertised by the Dominion government in the same way that Australia, New Zealand and South African products are advertised throughout the country by the respective governments of those countries.

They see no reason why Canadian apples should not have the same publicity as Australian apples, which in the press and on boardings confront the Englishman at every turn.

Faculty For Languages

Leeds Railway Worker Has Mastered Twenty Since War

Mr. Harry Robinson, a Leeds railway worker, is master of twenty-two languages. He can speak English, French, Italian, Russian, German, Spanish, and Danish. He can read and write Greek, Dutch, Persian, Esperanto, Swedish, Portuguese, Bulgarian, Chinese, Hindustani, Arabic, Turkish, Latin, Norwegian, Russian, Serbian, and Japanese. Previous to the war he knew only English and Latin, then he found a French novel in a railway carriage, and mastered it with the aid of a dictionary. All his study has been done in his spare time since then.

Hard Luck Pursues Her

In Birmingham, England, according to "Time, the News Magazine," Madge Gunner, governess, complained last week that her first fiancé, a war-time officer, was killed by a rifle grenade; her second, an aviator, fell to death three days before the wedding; her third, an engineer, was struck by a crane and died; her fourth died two days before the marriage.

At three cents a mile a journey to the sun would cost $2,790,000.

"How are things with you?"
"Couldn't be better. My wife has eloped, my mother-in-law is dying, and I have just won the big lottery."
—Moustique, Charleroi.

Friend: "You look very serious."
Doctor: "I am worried about one of my patients."
"Is it a very serious case?"
"Yes—he won't pay his bill!"

NOT STRICT ENOUGH

There is an appalling increase in automobile accidents and this section of the province has had a fair share of them. While many of the accidents have been pure accidents, others have been caused by careless driving.

With the increased use of automobiles and a growing tendency among some to disregard traffic regulations and safety methods more rigid conditions governing the issuing of drivers' licenses are about in order.

We are told that in France a complete knowledge of an automobile, covering every mechanical part, is an essential preliminary to the receiving of a drivers' license. In this province one is required to know how to step on the gas, how to apply the brakes and to have an elementary knowledge of traffic regulations. An applicant is not even questioned concerning these rather obvious essentials.

An automobile, because of its general use, has ceased to be regarded as a dangerous vehicle to operate. The increasing number of accidents, however, should be enough to remind us the operation this modern type of conveyance calls for at least a little more knowledge than the pushing of a wheelbarrow. It is time regulations should be fashioned accordingly.

PAY YOUR DEBTS

The editor of a small town newspaper in Alberta had on his list of subscribers a Blackfoot Indian chief. Unlike many of the whites who subscribed to the paper, this chief was very prompt in paying his subscription, and the editor, thinking he could perhaps get a story which would remind the slow ones of their delinquency, asked the Indian for the reason for his promptness. He was rewarded by the following answer:

"Huh! some day me die. Me has been heap good Injun, so me go to heaven. St. Peter ask me, 'You pay all your debts' and look me up in Big Book. If he see that me no pay editor for paper, he say, 'Huh. You no can come in here till you pay for paper.' Huh! me no want to run all over hell to find you to pay for the paper. Huh!"—Blairmore Enterprise.

ACTION, NOT WORDS

It took just 25 words in the annual report of the Canadian Pacific Railway to refer to the construction of the Royal York Hotel in Toronto. The hotel is costing the C.P.R. $16,000,000, which is something over $600,000 for each word in the report.

Canadian Pacific has become such a large institution that even its mightiest works must be kept in perspective when one attempts to view them in evidence of what the C.P.R. is doing for Canada. Three millions is being spent on the Empress Hotel in Victoria and $2,000,000 on the Paliser in Calgary, but these are routine matters to C.P.R. Millions will be spent on a gigantic Canadian Hotel in London, but this will be only one item in a year's program. Within about one year, four magnificent ocean liners have been put into commission; contracts were let for two others and five ocean freighters have been loaded with their first cargoes. New lines as long as the distance from Montreal to Toronto were built. Millions were spent on equipment.—Financial Post.

SWIM IN SAFETY

With the bathing season here, the National Safety council has issued a bulletin in which are given a number of safety hints for swimmers. There are many important points to be considered before the swimmer goes in the water, and disregard of these has resulted in many fatalities.

Following are a few of them:
Don't swim on a full stomach. (Wait at least two hours after eating).

Don't swim if overheated or tired. Don't swim until exhausted. (Rest on your back and then swim ashore).

Don't dive without accurate knowledge of the depth of the water.

Don't struggle if caught in a swift current or undertow; then work in toward shore.

Don't wade into water with your arms above your head. (You will not be ready to stroke if you step into a hole).

Don't lean backward when wading into the water. (Always be ready to fall forward).

Gliding over the Atlantic and a record breaking clip, the liner Bremen, Germany's new greyhound of the sea, reached New York, July 22 on its maiden voyage in faster time than any merchant ship ever made in crossing the Atlantic. It completed the run from Cherbourg in 4 days, 18 hours, 17 minutes. The Mauretania's record was 5 days, 2 hours, 34 minutes.

Three thousand men and women gathered Sunday last at the little town of St. Albert, nine miles out of Edmonton, when the memorial to Father Lacombe was unveiled by Pat Burns of Calgary, an old friend of the Father. The statue was brought over from France by means of Rev. F. Jan, O.M.I., parish priest of St. Albert, assisted by prominent citizens and old timers of Alberta and by a group of patrons.

A Pleasing Incident

Deaf and Dumb Children Are Entertained To a Lecture

This pleasing and pathetic little incident took place in Montreal recently—at the largest health exhibit ever shown in Canada, when the Canadian Social Hygiene Council assisted the Montreal Federation of French Health Agencies in a financial drive.

Morning, afternoon, and evening, health lectures were given, thousands of school children being carried free on the street cars. And one day they brought all the little deaf and dumb children in Montreal.

They gathered that silent company in the big lecture hall, and placed them in little groups of fifteen or so, around lady teachers. Each teacher faced the lecturer, and the children solemnly looked at their teachers. And then the lecturer began to speak to the children, while they stood, unhearing, and watched their teachers.

He spoke only a few sentences, and stopped. And all the teachers began to move their fingers, translating the lecture. The children's eyes followed eagerly as they understood the words that were being relayed to them, their own native language that they could not understand until it was translated into motion.

Children are notably fidgety at lectures, but not so these youngsters. To see how they enjoyed every minute of it was enough to bring tears to many eyes that watched them. They were being brought into closer touch with the world of their voiced playmates; their partial isolation was being temporarily broken down. To each of them, that lecture was a big event.

MADE HER BABY PLUMP AND WELL

Nothing makes a mother more grateful than a benefit conferred upon her child. Mothers everywhere who have used Baby's Own Tablets for their children speak in enthusiastic terms of them. For instance, Mrs. Zepherin Lavole, Three Rivers, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are a wonderful medicine for little ones. They never fail to regulate the baby's stomach and bowels and make him plump and well. I always keep a box of the Tablets in the house and would advise all mothers to do likewise." Most of the ordinary ailments of childhood arise in the stomach and bowels, and can be quickly banished by Baby's Own Tablets. These Tablets relieve constipation and indigestion, break up colds and simple fevers, expel worms, allay teething pains and promote healthful sleep. They are guaranteed to be free from injurious drugs and are safe even for the youngest and most delicate child. ### Has Gained Popularity

Essay Contest Teaching Toledo School Children Facts About Canada

A Canadian essay contest in the Toledo, Ohio, schools, sponsored by Edmond G. Odette, M.P., for East Essex, has gained such popularity in that city that one of the newspapers now is carrying a daily feature entitled "Facts About Canada."

"Canada," one of the Toledo papers pointed out, "is a nation of home-owners in the farming district, 78 per cent. of the people owning their own homes."

Other facts listed from day to day, deal with Canada's natural resources, its hydro power, its fishing and its industrial enterprises.

The competition among the Toledo school children was started last fall when Mr. Odette, addressing the North Toledo improvement association, offered to pay the expenses of a trip to Ottawa for the author of the best essay on "Canada."

The proposal received such a favorable impression in Toledo, that the chamber of commerce there offered to do likewise for a second student. The object of the essay contest and the trip, is to promote a better understanding between the people of the adjoining countries.

Out Of Their Element

Eskimo Boys Cannot Stand Climate Of Eastern Canada

Ben Ell, nine-year-old son of Chief John Ell, head of the Southampton Island Eskimos, and Sam Pudlutt, who have been endeavoring to learn the ways of civilization at Lakefield preparatory school, near Peterboro, Ont., have been forced to give up their studies there and hurry home on account of illness.

Ben and Sam soon became favorites at the Lakefield school where they have been for two years, but just before Christmas both were forced to relinquish their studies to face an ordeal of sickness. Influenza, pneumonia, measles, tonsillitis and operations for mastoids and adenoids proved too gruelling a test for little Eskimo constitutions and it has been decided to send them back to their northern home.

Evidently Not

In a small country town they were discussing the question of a brighter Sunday.

Various proposals were put forward, and some daring soul suggested a Pleasant Sunday Afternoon.

A dignified old lady rose in the meeting and said: "There will be no pleasant Sunday afternoon where I am."

Ontario Pension Act

Qualifications Necessary For Those Who Wish To Take Advantage Of Old Age Fund

Persons who have reached the age of 70 years, being British subjects, resident in Canada 20 years, and in Ontario five years, and who are not in receipt of income to the amount of $365 a year, may apply for pensions under the Ontario Old Age Pensions Act as defined by order-in-council and published in the Ontario Gazette.

To receive the pension applicants must not be Indians as defined by the Indian Act. Any voluntary assignment or transfer of property made for the purpose of obtaining the pension will disqualify the applicant under the act.

A son or daughter with sufficient means is bound to provide for maintenance of a dependent parent, the Pensions Act not relieving them from this obligation.

Employment At Highest Peak

Indications Of Great Activity In Business Throughout Dominion

What is regarded as a reliable indicator of the good condition of business generally in Canada is the official report on employment throughout the Dominion. On June 1st of this year, employment was at the highest level of any month on record, showing 1,046,756 persons employed by 6,752 firms, an increase of 53,503 persons in employment compared with May 1, 1929. This increase of 53,503 or 5.4 per cent. brought the index number to 122.4 or over three points above the previous level in the last nine years, recorded in August 1, 1928. Increased employment has been due to the great activity in all lines of manufacturing, construction, lumbering and other industries.

Sale Of School Lands

Great Interest Shown In This Year's Auction Sales Held In West

Unprecedented interest was manifested in this year's auction sales of reserve school lands in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Attendance at the various points where sales were held was high, and reached 1,000 at some points. Many farmers acquired additional land adjoining their present holdings for the purpose of extending their operations, or to make provision for their sons. Many of the buyers of these lands were "new Canadians" who have prospered in western Canada.

In all, some 738,000 acres of land were sold, for a total of $10,192,829. Prices paid ranged all the way from $8 to $70 an acre. In Saskatchewan, 4,662 parcels were sold, the average price being $12.81 per acre, and in Alberta 63 parcels, the average price being $13.53 per acre. Two of the heaviest sales were at Assiniboia, Sask., where $1,400,000.00 was realized, and at Rosetown, Sask., where $1,216,000.00 was taken.

SYNOPSIS

After a night of revelry at a New York uptown night club, Marcus, the famous revue producer, takes a party of four to Blackie Joe's downtown club, which stays open until sunrise. They are seated at a "ringside table" by Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, who takes their order for beer. Al is unaware of Marcus's identity. Grace, the cigarette girl, is devoted to Al and really in love with him, but he does not see that. Al fills the order for beers and on his return from the bar sees Molly, the ballad singer in her dressing room. He moves toward her as if drawn by a magnet. He is in love with her, but Molly is indifferent to him.

CHAPTER III.

Al entered Molly's dressing room, depositing his tray of beers on a nearby stand. He forgot the drinks, forgot the party of fashionably dressed men and women who were impatiently waiting for him in the big room outside, forgot everything except the girl he adored—Molly.

He stood quietly by her side for a moment, saying nothing. And Molly, the ballad singer, continued deftly the business of making up, as she sat before her dressing table. She wished to goodness that this singing waiter, who was always composing silly songs, would transfer his affections to someone else. But, finally, she couldn't escape the penetrating insistence of his eyes as he gazed over her shoulder at her decidedly attractive reflection in the mirror. She turned her head with a sigh of resignation, and said ambiguously:

"Ain't love grand?"

Al did not know quite what she meant by that. If she were spoofing him; well, she could—he didn't mind. Whatever she did she couldn't prevent his loving her. But now her remark unlocked the flood gates of his speech.

"I can't help it, Molly, if I'm crazy about you," he whispered ardently, coming still closer. "I've been that way ever since the first time I saw you. I think you're the most beautiful girl in the world—on the level, I do!"

Al longed to reach out and stroke her glossy golden hair; he wanted to catch her beautiful little white hands and pull her close to him. But he realized he couldn't do that now, her attitude said so plainly, "Stand off!"

As for Molly, she was mildly pleased and flattered at the impression she had made. No woman dislikes being called the most beautiful girl in the world, even if she doesn't love the man who says it. But, after all, he was just a singing waiter, a chap with no prospects. She said to him crisply:

"Be yourself, waiter."

The remark should have been like a slap in the face to Al, but it wasn't. If he had stopped to think he would have known she addressed him as "waiter" simply to humiliate him.

"You know, Molly," he began earnestly, "I'm not going to be a waiter all my life. Some day I'm going to sell some of the songs I've written. Don't you see, Molly, that if I just have you by my side I can't miss. I can write ballads that will put you over big—make you the talk of Broadway!"

Molly's boredom was apparent.

"Oh, run along, Al. I've heard all that talk before."

But Al scarcely heard her words. He was reaching in his coat pocket for some of the songs he had written. He drew them out, sorted them in nervous haste, and produced the one most precious to him—"Always." This was the heart-throb song he had written just the night before, thinking of Molly every moment during the creation of it. As he had penned the words and arranged the music he had visualized Molly singing it in her lovely, sensuous contralto voice. It was her song; she had inspired it completely.

Molly had returned to her make-up boxes; she did not even glance up as Al extended the song for her inspection.

"Molly!" he pleaded desperately, "Can't you see that, although I can't talk the way I feel, I can write my feelings into music. I've written this song just for you. I want you to do something for me—sing it to-night."

Al's beseeching tone would have brought a sympathetic response from almost any woman, but not Molly. She was humming softly to herself as if to drown out his words. Meanwhile, the beers stood on the nearby table, the white, feathery foam gone from their tops. Meanwhile, Marcus the great producer, was in the outside room raging at the delay.

He rapped peremptorily on the table and finally summoned Blackie Joe himself to make a complaint. Blackie listened, nodded rapidly, and headed for the bar in search of Al. But at the doorway he glanced down the corridor and saw his singing waiter in earnest confab with Molly. Blackie took the situation in at a glance, but decided not to bawl out Al. After all, when a man's in love, you must expect him to be balmy, reasoned Blackie. He stepped to the doorway and said, not unkindly:

"Come on, Al—on the job."

Al turned to his tray of beers but, before picking it up, thrust his precious song on Molly's dressing table before her.

"Read the words, please," he begged and, catching up his tray vanished.

Blackie Joe stood nonchalantly in the doorway, one hand thrust into his trousers' pocket, staring after Al's retreating back. Then the proprietor turned to Molly.

"Molly, do your stuff tonight. Marcus is out in front."

Molly straightened as if touched by an electric shock. All trace of boredom vanished.

"Shut my mouth, Blackie! You don't mean it—not Marcus who puts on the roof revues?"

"No one else but," said Blackie, nodding delightedly.

The glow in Molly's eyes was replaced by a cool, calculating stare. Marcus was outside—what an opportunity! Marcus, whose approval meant fame!

"Blackie," she begged, "introduce me?"

Blackie nodded—"Okay, I'll do that"—and returned to his floor show. Two boy hoopers were strutting their stuff near the Marcus table, while Al was serving the belated beers.

As Blackie came closer, he heard Marcus's protesting voice:

"There's a fly in my beer!"

Al leaned over, quick as a flash, and answered:

"Sh-h! Not so loud—they'll all be wanting them."

Marcus turned away in annoyance. Al shouldn't wisecrack that way with such a man, thought Blackie. It was all right with the regular patrons, but not with anyone like Marcus. But before Blackie could smooth things out, Al had picked up the glass and hurried off to bring a new beer.

At the bar doorway he again confronted Molly—in her most gorgeous costume, garbed for conquest.

"Molly, did you like it?"

"Like what?"

"My song. Will you sing it?"

Molly's eyes flashed in sudden anger. "For heaven's sake, Al, let me alone! I've important business on tonight. I didn't read it and I won't sing it! That's flat!"

As Al recoiled before her lashing words his gaze dropped. His song lay on the floor—under Molly's slim, high curving heel!

Many loved Truth, and lavished life's best oil

Amid the dust of books to find her. Content at last, for guerdon of their toll,

With the cast mantle she hath left behind her.

Many in sad faith sought for her, Many with crossed hands sighed for her;

But these, our brothers, fought for her, At life's dear peril wrought for her,

So loved her that they died for her. —James Russell Lowell.

The seeds of truth sown by great and loyal men bear fruit through all the years to be. To have lived and labored and died for the right, nothing can be sublimer.

CLEAN SEED VERSUS WEEDS

(By G. M. Stewart, District Inspector, Dominion Seed Branch)

The attention of the public is being drawn, during this time of the year, to problems relating to weeds. All who are interested in our agricultural industry, realize the necessity of weed prevention and eradication. There is ample evidence of serious losses each year through pollution of our cereal crops, and the expense connected with hauling, shipping and cleaning our screenings consisting largely of weed seeds, is greatly reducing farm profits. The only way to profitable production is to be more persistent than the weed. Eradication is good, but prevention is better. One method of preventing the introduction of new weeds and the spread of old ones, is to sow only clean seed.

Every individual farmer is personally responsible for the seed he sows on his own land, but the Seeds Act, administered by the Seed Branch, Dominion Department of Agriculture, controls the importation and sale of seed in Canada. This act provides grades under which seed may be sold and all seed offered for sale must be labelled with one of such grades, which makes it possible for a buyer of seed to know before purchasing the quality of seed he is securing. Freedom from weed seed is an important factor in the grading of seed. The careful farmer will insist on procuring only the highest grade of seed obtainable, as undoubtedly some of our worst weeds have been introduced into fertile land through dirty seed. The farmer can safeguard himself from getting any new weed seeds, by demanding, before purchasing seed, that he be supplied with a detailed analysis report, as issued by the Seed Branch. This report is the basis on which the grade is given, therefore such report must be in the hands of the seller of the seed and is available to those who insist on seeing same before placing orders. The sale of "Rejected" seed is prohibited and wilful violators are prosecuted under the Seeds Act.

Weed seeds once introduced into our soils will, if not controlled, soon pollute our land to such an extent as to make it extremely difficult to free the soil of them. Being especially interested in that part of agriculture concerned with seed, I can not too strongly emphasize the importance and value of using clean seed.

Mr. H. O. Tonjum of the North End Lumber Yard has placed a stop sign at the corner of the Yard office to catch the eye of auto drivers who pass the Edmonton trail corner 2 blocks south. ## GIRLS HAVE ROCKY RANCH CAMP

The Lake Windermere Bungalow Camp which was the first of its kind established in the Canadian Rockies will this year be transformed into a Ranch-Camp for girls under the direction of Miss Mary E. Cutler, of Minneapolis, and Dr. Harriett E. Cooke, of Chicago, who have had considerable experience in the management of such Camps and have selected this as an ideal spot for girls desiring an active outdoor life, combined with instruction in art. The staff includes instructors in riding, swimming and camp-craft, in addition to teachers of handicrafts and painting, and the course will include participation in the annual four-day cross country ride of the Trail Riders of the Canadian Rockies. Both Miss Cutler and Dr. Cooke have spent several summers in this region and are enthusiastic about the healthgiving value of ranch-camp life in these Alpine regions of Canada for the younger generation. They took part in last year's Trail Ride to the Lake of the Hanging Glaciers which is in the Lake Windermere district, and have engaged Walter Nixon, the well-known hunter and guide to supervise the trail riding expedition which will form part of the course in camp-craft for the girls. The Hon. Randolph Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, has his summer home in the neighbourhood and is taking a keen interest in the movement.
